THE CONTINUOUS JOURNEY OF NATURAL GOODNESS

From the simplicity of a single grain to the precision of modern formulations, Shakti Maltodex represents a refined transformation of nature into dependable functionality. Each variant is developed through a controlled hydrolysis process, resulting in maltodextrins that differ in dextrose equivalence while maintaining the same standards of purity, consistency, and performance.

Shakti Maltodex LD offers lower dextrose equivalence, making it ideal where body, stability, and controlled sweetness are essential.

Shakti Maltodex SD delivers balanced functionality, supporting a wide range of food and nutrition applications with versatility and reliability.

Shakti Maltodex HD provides higher dextrose equivalence, enabling faster solubility and quicker energy release for performance-driven formulations.

Across beverages, bakery mixes, confectionery, dairy products, nutritional powders, and specialised applications, Shakti Maltodex supports manufacturers with predictable behaviour and consistent results.

This is not a difference in quality. It is a choice of functionality, designed to perform across industries.

STRONG VALUES THAT SHAPE BETTER INGREDIENTS

At Saatvik Agro, our values begin with purity and extend to purpose. We believe that every ingredient carries a responsibility to perform safely, consistently, and predictably across diverse applications. This belief is embedded into how we design, manufacture, and deliver every variant of Shakti Maltodex.

Whether it is Shakti Maltodex LD, SD, or HD, each product is governed by the same uncompromising standards of quality, hygiene, and process control. The difference lies not in quality, but in functionality, allowing formulators to select the right dextrose profile while relying on uniform purity and consistency across the range.

Our sourcing, processing, and quality assurance systems are designed to deliver clarity, stability, and repeatability. Batch after batch, Shakti Maltodex behaves exactly as expected, enabling manufacturers to scale production with confidence.

WHAT MAKES US DIFFERENT?

What sets Saatvik Agro apart is our ability to translate ingredient science into practical formulation advantage. By precisely controlling hydrolysis parameters, we create maltodextrins that offer distinct functional outcomes while maintaining a shared foundation of purity and performance.

Our technical teams work closely with food, beverage, and nutrition manufacturers to help them choose between LD, SD, and HD variants based on application needs such as body, solubility, sweetness control, or energy delivery. This collaborative approach ensures that Shakti Maltodex integrates seamlessly into real-world production environments.

We are driven by reliability, technical understanding, and long-term partnerships built on trust.
